Glen Canyon NRA began collecting fees in April 1997 and retains 80% of revenue collected (compared to only 15% of revenues collected from traditional fee programs). A portion of fees will be banked for future projects, which may include everything from rehabilitation of the Wahweap picnic area and Lees Ferry Historical District, to the construction of permanent fee stations park-wide. Funds are also used to enable Glen Canyon NRA’s continued focus on improving Lake Powell water quality.

Water Quality

Since 1997, rangers have talked with thousands of lakeshore campers about new regulations regarding human waste containment. These regulations state that if you are camping within one-quarter mile of Lake Powell, or more than 200 yards from a designated restroom facility, you are required to possess and utilize a human sanitation device(portable toilet), that does not use plastic bags to contain the waste, UNLESS you utilize an NPS approved Waste Bag Containment System, which must be disposed of in the trash. All wastes must be disposed of properly - in portable toilet dump stations or boat pumpout stations at marinas or at any of the floating pumpout/dump stations located on the lake. Overboard discharge of human waste is prohibited and if your vessel has a marine sanitation device that can discharge from its holding tank, the device must be sealed so that overboard discharge is impossible.
